

PAT'S LEARNING ANNEX! NEWSLETTER!

MONDAY: HAIKU BY CLARE

Yells and cheers of rights
Crowded into a small square
Marching with immigrants

Anna, Clare and Ethan went to the May 1st protest for immigrants. Then Clare and Ethan wrote a fluency write on their feeling about the experience. Anna is writing an essay on the issue. Megan and Tiarnan worked with Pat and Mark at school. In Science we looked at our copper coated nails and started an experiment to show what colors the leaves would turn in the fall. We also read another exciting chapter of INKHEART.

TUESDAY: HAIKU BY TIARNAN

Candles of memories
Sailing away safely
Saying good-bye

After a morning of working on the history fair, math, fluency writes and poetry we ate lunch. In the afternoon we went to City Park with candles that had messages of things we want to let go of. We lit them and let them sail away into the Iowa River. Then we played Bocce Ball and jumped rope.

WEDNESDAY: HAIKU BY MEGAN

Rain brings dragon grass
Sweet pollen mingles with air
Wind wishes through leaves.

We learned about Haiku from Anna and Steve Fox. We did Math. We also worked on the History Fair. Since we are writing at lunchtime nothing more has happened yet. (It rained today!) We will read more of INKHEART.

May 11 – fundraiser from 6 to 8:30. Each family needs to bring around 10 names to send an invitation to. If you have anything for the auction let Pat or Sue Kann know.

Saturday from 10 to 3:30 will be a workday at the school.

The group will be doing a reading of their writings down town between 4 – 4:30 CALL PAT TO FIND OUT WHERE AND OTHER INFO!

We will be making T shirts tomorrow and not going to the Library. Everyone needs to bring a white shirt.

Tuition and Lunch money is due.

By: The Amazing Pat's Learning Annex crew