

The Haunted PLA newsletter

October 26, 2006

Welcome to our haunted school, beware read on at your own risk. All this spooky week, we have been reading about the Strange Case of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde, by Robert Louis Stevenson. In this mad, mysterious mystery, the kind but twisted Dr. Jekyll does an odd experiment that changes his life forever. We met the diabolical Mr. Hyde, who is eerily evil. Hyde has a strange relationship with Dr. Jekyll, which we found out later is more than just a friendship. Mr. Utterson, an amazing detective lawyer, believes that Mr. Hyde is blackmailing Dr. Jekyll, but soon finds out that his good friend has stepped over the line of sanity. Although this story started out slow and a bit wordy, now it is creeping up on us and is getting exciting. We can't wait to hear the final chapter where Dr. Jekyll tells his story. We are writing our own haunting horror stories to share next week.

Our spooky school will become even more creepy and freaky on Monday, October 30 from 4:00-5:30, when we will put on a haunted house for our younger friends. If you know any younger (3-6year olds) bring them if you dare. Treats will be provided for a truly, terrific time.

We are sorry to announce that one of our stupendous students, our marvelous maid Vivian is being sucked into another dimension in the underworld near St. Louis and will be living there from now on. Although we tried Dr. jekyll's experiment of turning her into two, it didn't work so we must sadly say good-bye. Today we will have a perfect party in her honor. We know she will visit whenever she can.

We have been learning how to order food in French from our wonderful waiter Professor Steve. It has been fun and informative.

Included with this newsletter is a note from Tina Robinson about our Campbell coupon exchange. Thanks to Tina for taking on this extra project to help raise money for our school.

Time to take off, a biento,
