

Pat's Learning Annex

Newsletter
November 16, 2006

ALIENS:

What?

*I watched some weirdo
Earthlings working a school day.*

What did they do?!!!

They wrote Two Voice Poems.

What ARE they?!

Poems- with two voices!

TWO VOICES?! Wow!

Vivacious Vivian visited.

They all must have been happy.

They were and Vivian felt like she was jumping on Mars.

What else did they do?

They went shopping in French class.

*They used their enormous imaginations
At recess time playing games of fairies.*

Always fairies.

Hunter, Ethan and Marty looked up pi on google.

What's pi?

*They found that it is a number that represents the ratio of the of the circumference
(all the way around) of a circle to the diameter
(the distance across the circle)*

Wow, that sounds super hard.

*Yes, the number is 3.14159265358979323846.
They are going to see how many numbers from pi
they can memorize.*

Earthlings are super smart.

SUPER SMART!

SUPER SMART!

They colored marvelous maps of the United States.

Sounds like fun.

Largely learning and Fantastic fun

They are also going to a puppet show called Animalitos on November 20.

Sounds like a serious super school.

Sure is!

Aliens: Creative Clare and Vibrant Vivian.

Notes:

Save that date: The kids of Pat's Learning Annex are planning a Thank-You dinner for all their wonderful supporters on Tuesday, November 21. Invitations will follow.

No parents signed up for conferences with Pat. This is an important part of your child's education. The time between Thanksgiving and Christmas is very busy. Please check with Pat about a time to meet with your child to go over all the wonderful work they have been doing. Thanks.